White Coat Sponsorship

Serving as a White Coat Sponsor is an exciting and rewarding way to support a medical student as they begin their journey to become a physician. Alumni, parents, faculty, corporate partners, foundations, employees, friends, and community members are invited to sponsor one or more medical students for $500 per student. With the sponsor donations, at the annual White Coat Ceremony each medical student receives their first white coat, a WMed-branded stethoscope, tuning fork, reflex hammer, and apparel needed for coursework and clinical applications. In addition, the sponsor writes a personal note of congratulations to the student they are sponsoring that is placed in the pocket of the student's white coat. Sponsoring an entering medical student often results in a special bond between the sponsor and the student. We thank our White Coat Sponsor campaign co-chairs, Michael and Jennifer Odar, for their leadership of this year's program. Learn more about being a White Coat Sponsor at wmed.edu/giving/whitecoat.
